VOL. XLIX. UPLAND, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1944. NO. 103

NINE UPLAND MEN REPORT FOR PRE-PHYSICAL EXAM

Fifty selectees called up by the local selective service board went to Los Angeles yesterday, where they submitted to pre-physical induction examinations.

The contingent included nine Upland men.

UPLAND — Robert Cameron, Marvin Roy Palmer, Wayne Dennis, Kenneth Olilla, William Frances Batchelor, Richard Eden, Edward Earl Bennett, James Wiseman, Floyd Douglas Roach.

CUCAMONGA — Seberino Acosta Villarreal, Ellsworth Mitchell.

ETIWANDA—Dee Shockley.

ALTA LOMA — Charles Noel Freeman.

ONTARIO—Emmitt John Dryden, George Reuben Rowe.

Draft boards are now receiving the first set in a series of regulations carrying out a new policy on men who are unacceptable militarily. Selective service today embarked on a campaign to persuade men unfit for military service or more than 37 years old to take jobs "making a contribution to the war".

"Making a contribution" is approximately the same, it was explained, as being on the war manpower commission's list of 35 essential activities, though a borderline cases must rely on judgment of the selective service board.

LEGION TO STUDY $6,000 OFFER

The City of Upland offer of $6,000 for the purchase of the American Legion building will be discussed at the meeting of the Upland post of the Legion Tuesday night, according to John D. Howe, committee chairman.

An official report of the city council's tender will be submitted and the proposal will be presented to the membership for consideration. The committee members said that no comment on the Legion's attitude toward the offer would be made until after the meeting.

The Legion committee recently asked the city council to consider purchasing the veterans' clubhouse immediately north of the city hall since the organization is considering the possibility of erecting a new clubhouse to serve veterans of both World wars. The council's offer of $6,000 was made at last week's meeting.

Hip boots are being inspected, and arms are being loosened up to perfect casting technique, tackle boxes are being cleaned out from the last fishing trip and boat cushions are being resurrected.

When reels get oiled and baits are discussed and a man starts counting the days—it's fishin' time!

DAVIS' COURT SCHEDULE LISTED

Roy E. Davis, in Upland Wednesday for arraignment, will make appearances here again on May 4 and 11, according to a court schedule revealed today by Judge Fred H. Jacobs.

The court hearings will be held in the Upland city council chambers rather than in Judge Jacobs' small court room, out of consideration for the number of Davis' friends and local citizens who are vitally interested in the proceedings, the justice of the peace reported.

On May 4, preliminary hearings will be held for Davis on four felony charges. Petty theft jury trials will be conducted on May 11, with Judge Jacobs presiding.

Jury members will be selected from the panel of 130 persons residing in the Upland township.

Wednesday's arraignment was based on the alleged sale of a mortgaged pool table and alleged illegal possession of a revolver. Preliminary hearings on these charges were set for next Thursday.

Davis is being held in the county jail pending his appearances in the local court.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN IN HEIGHTS UNITE

San Antonio Heights Volunteer Fire department is a reality today with an organization meeting being held this week. Arthur J. Reeder, active civic worker, was chosen as the chief and to organize the residents into a strong group. His assistant chiefs are C. G. Lydick and O. D. Davis. A. J. DeMeyere was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Another meeting of all interested persons will be held at the San Antonio Heights firehouse at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening. Additional memberships will be accepted at that time. Fifteen persons are already listed on the roster.

Bill Duncan, in charge of the Heights station for the forestry department, and W. H. Clayton, assistant forestry ranger at Alta Loma, are aiding in forming of the new department.

Purpose of the new fire-fighting unit is to give added protection to the Heights property. The specific duty will be to "man" the fire engine at the station when Mr. Duncan is not available and to otherwise assist him. Two engines are stationed at the headquarters. Frequently Mr. Duncan is called to take one truck to a fire in some other part of the forestry area. When this situation has prevailed, the station has had a truck, but no firemen. The new department will now supply the manpower.

Proposed Retirement Plan Studied

34 Upland City Employes May Be Included In Plan for Retirement Pay

Assurance has been expressed by James E. Goodban, chairman of the city council finance committee, that deliberate study will be given the proposed plan of pensions for Upland city employes. Each of the councilmen is now carefully studying the proposed retirement act. No action will be taken until the general public has had time to become acquainted with the proposal, he said.

Money to provide for the retirement of employes would come from the city tax fund and from the employes themselves, according to the proposal. The city has 34 employes, with the annual pay roll approximately $71,700.

The city's approximate annual contribution is estimated at $7,420, while the amount deducted from the employes' pay for the fund is figured at $4,846. This amount is 6.76 per cent of the payroll.

Money contributed by the city and the employes here would be placed in the fund administered by the State Employes' Retirement system. This system became effective January 1, 1932, and it is administered by a board of eight members.

Retirement of employes is optional on reaching the age of 60 with 20 years of continuous service, and compulsory at the age of 70. The retirement pay varies, the amount depending upon the length of service and the average annual salary during the last five years prior to retirement. Provision is made for payment of a sum to the heirs on the death of an employe. If an employe chooses to quit working for the city prior to retirement age, his contributions into the fund will be returned to him, plus interest earned at a small rate.

NAVEL ORANGE SEASON NEAR END

Forecast of an abundant and successful Valencia orange crop for this immediate area is seen by local citrus leaders here today.

Southern California has been assigned its first pro-rate for next week of 175 cars. Central California, which has been shipping Valencia oranges for the past few weeks, has a pro-rate of 675 cars according to a local citrus firm.

Approximately 75-80 carloads of navel oranges from this area remain to be shipped, Harry Harlow of the Ontario-Cucamonga Fruit Exchange stated today.

By the time California Valencia oranges are hitting their stride so to speak, Florida oranges will be finished, although their shipments will continue through June it was pointed out.

The Ontario-Cucamonga Fruit Exchange reports the shipment of 120 carloads of oranges and 26 carloads lemons from here last week.

German Soldier Articles Arrive Here From T. Sgt. George T. Wise in Italy

Mrs. George T. Wise, 864 Alpine street, has received an interesting collection of articles that are part of German soldier equipment. The items arrived this week from her husband, T-Sgt. Wise, now in Italy.

Among the items is a German compass in a small plastic-like case resembling a compact and containing a metal mirror which offers unusually clear vision.

Probably one of the most interesting articles is a rifle cleaning kit which resembles nothing so much as a Prince Albert tobacco can. The shape is the same and they are almost identical in size. The metal is heavy and the container is divided into sections containing a heavy pliable chain used as a ramrod, two brushes or varying size, and an oiler.

Also included in the package was a bronze medal for participation in the African campaign. This had a design in high relief on the reverse side of two figures in armor struggling with a dragon. The other round medal enclosed is evidently some kind of an insignia. The metal was light in weight and had been painted black, which had worn off in spots. The embossed design was of two crossed sabers centered by a German helmet decorated with the swastika.

Two other articles Mrs. Wise received were a leather cartridge case made in three sections, which is worn fastened to the belt, and a ring Sgt. Wise had made from the propellor metal of a German Me-109.

All items sent here had the official approval of army officers and the signed certificate accompanied the packet.

In an annual ladies night program, the new officers will be installed, with Norman S. Lawson conducting the ceremony. Principal speaker on the program will be Frederic Woellner, U. C. L. A. professor and widely known speaker.

Fire Whistle Will Sound Often Unless— Action Is Sought

The fire siren will sound many times during next month—

Unless every property owner removes all the weeds and other fire hazards.

Unless every resident observes the requirement not to burn trash and the like after 10 a. m.

Unless full cooperation is given by every resident.

May is the month of fires here, according to Fire Chief Howard Paulin.

"That is, May always has been a period of many alarms" reported the chief, and then added: "but let's change the record That is entirely possible if every person cooperates."

First "weed alarm' of the season sounded Wednesday, firemen being called to Ninth avenue and Arrow highway, where sparks from a smouldering trash fire ignited nearby weeds.

"That alarm should be the signal for all Uplanders to take the situation seriously," emphasized the official. "We will have many more alarms and perhaps some day very costly fires unless all fire hazards are promptly removed.

Is Hitler Here?

This is America, isn't it? This is the land of the free, we understand, or is it?

We are a nation at war, fighting to overthrow Hitler and all that he stands for. And in doing that fighting, are we permitting Hitler's methods to prevail?

If Montgomery Ward & Co. is a vital war industry, producing munitions that our fighting men desperately need, then the government should take over.

However, if Montgomery Ward & Co. is nothing more than a huge retail organization, then the New Deal bureaucrats are trespassing and are using the same tactics that made Hitler the world's worst desperado.

When management and labor have difficulties in these war-torn days, the public is vitally concerned—IF the business affects the production of war munitions or has a bearing on the execution of the war.

If the business involved in a labor dispute is not directly related to the war, then it is no concern of government officials.

Montgomery Ward & Co. probably serves thousands of servicemen in one way or another—and what large or small store doesn't? The fact that there are labor troubles in non-essential businesses does not justify the use of Hitler's tactics in "taking over" a business—just because the management does not "conform" to some whim or ruling of a government agency.

Plan Urgently Needed Here To Save Waste Paper

The suggestion is made by P. H. McQuillen that some plan be evolved whereby waste paper and cartons be saved.

Many pounds of precious wrapping paper, packing material, cartons and other paper items are daily discarded by business firms. The city's truck is filled day after day with material some of which might be saved for re-use. It is not feasible for the individual firms to save up the paper discard.

It might not even be feasible for the city of Upland to provide a paper bailer or other necessary machinery. Every community in this district, however, is tossing away or burning up sorely needed paper.

Ex-Mayor McQuillen's suggestion might lead to some plan being developed among neighboring cities for joint use of equipment. There is an urgent need to save paper. Yet tons of it are being discarded daily just because some agency doesn't make it possible to save the paper.

Guard Duty

Daily we must guard our mind 'gainst thoughts of dire disaster,
Daily we must smile and pray and work a little faster;
Daily we must stop to think of our heroes lying dead,
Renew our work with vigor—faces ever straight ahead.
Daily we must guard our lips 'gainst speaking idle chatter,
Daily we must stop our ears to things that do not matter.
Daily we must keep on working, praying "strength shall never fail"—
Until the hour war shall cease and the "Victory Day" we hail.

—Martha Corrine Lowe

I finally got around to reading the 1944 almanac. The ideal way to read the almanac or a new Sears-Roebuck catalog is to retire early, adjust the bedlight just so, put a plate of hard candy or a good juicy apple on the night stand, and snuggle down in the covers with the book of your choice.

Franklin certainly started something. Although I know little of the workability of the theories regarding the light and dark of the moon and how it affects the planting of the family's supply of vitamins, I still find the rest of the almanac a mighty fine book to hen I get to the part dealing with horoscopes I'm entranced. I always start by reading what smart, artistic, lovable persons those born in the sign of Libra are supposed to be, and then I read all the other eleven signs of the zodiac and the peculiar traits of those born in each sign. Then I try to remember the birthdays of all my friends to see if they run true to form. After I get them all safely cataloged I read which persons are in complete harmony with other persons and whether it is advisable for a Scorpio person to tie the knot with one who is a Leo.

I add to my practically nil knowledge of astronomy by mentally noting which are the Evening stars and which are the Morning stars.

I'm a little excited to learn that there will be two eclipses in 1944, both of the sun. One of them I missed. It was supposed to have happened in January — but the other one won't be until July.

I skip over the pages dealing with symptoms of chickenpox and measles.

I'm surprised to learn that the same oil liniment recommended for human aches and pains is also recommended to relieve suffering for domestic animals. In other words, if it is good enough for you, it is good enough for Dobbin, and Old Dog Tray.

I really ought to tell you about Susy. Susy is the Chief's special chariot which sometimes falls to my lot to drive. She is a gray little hussy with a mind of her own, whose one claim for mention in the halls of fame is that she boasts four good tires..

Long ago, someone evidently broke off a key in the ignition,, so now when I drive Susy I turn the ignition on by matriculous use of a fingernail, or employ a loose bobbie pin. As for getting Susy started anywhere, it is just a question of who can hold out the longest, Susy or I. I always begin patiently with her, but it generally ends in my coaxing, pleading, yelling and finally snarling at her. Just when I'm ready to give up, Susy starts and her motor purrs like a kitten and I forgive all.

One door won't open, and if you stop at all suddenly the rumble seat lid flies open in outraged humiliation. She won't idle and even when you are only doing 16 miles per hour in Susy, you have the idea you are flying. Oh, I love Susy. When I drive her I don't even mind that her springs aren't as good as they once were, or that the upholstery is generally littered with papers and other debris.

When I drive Susy high school boys ask for lifts and not so high schoolish boys whistle—and it's all Susy's fault. She just ignores all comments and gestures and purrs right along like she was a Dusenburg Special or something. You can never explain Susy to other people. Sure as the world you tell someone how temperamental she is, she will act like the lamb she isn't. Twice I've openly denounced her to the Chief only to have Susy behave beautifully as soon as he turned on the ignition.

Susy is a hoyden, Susy is a minx, Susy is a shell of her former self—but we're going to keep Susy. Like nylon, she's indispensable.

BANKERS' PROGRAM TO AID VETERANS

A constructive program for assisting discharged service men with banking experience to re-establish themselves in the banking field has been launched by the Independent Bankers association of Southern California through its War Activities committee, it is announced by A. S. Barr, cashier of the First National bank here, which is a member of the association.

"Few people realize," the announcement states, "that approximately 5,000 veterans of World War 2 are now being discharged monthly here in Southern California. Many of these men have been returned to local hospitals to recuperate from battle wounds, which have made them unfit for further military service, but would in no way interfere with their efficiency as bankers."

Employment opportunities are being catalogued throughout Southern California and these will be referred to army and navy hospitals which will bring the available openings to the attention of veterans with banking experience.

We face powerful and desperate adversaries, made more desperate by the certainty of defeat. They are like men condemned on the scaffold, with nothing to lose and a brief extension of life to gain by trying every trick and ruse that may postpone execution. —Field Marshal Sir John Dill.

AHOY SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Ordinarily AHOY SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA is a three-minute chat with Lieut. Comdr. L. D. Blanchard, in charge of this Navy Recruiting District. Today's piece-in-the-paper, however, is guest-written by that well-known Keats of the Beets, the Farmers Market-Los Angeles Times columnist—FRED BECK.

When he isn't battening down a poop deck or mizzening his tops'l or doing whatever other important things a Lieut. Commander does—what Lieut. Commander L. D. Blanchard does is he takes a few minutes out now and then to write a column—which is mainly about you being a sucker if you don't join the Navy.

But today Lieut. Commander Blanchard has invited me to guest his column for him.

This is a day, Kolma, that I shan't soon forget. This is probably the last time on my record that a Naval officer shall ever INVITE me to do anything. From now on it won't be by invitation that I do things for Naval officers, and the reason is that they even let ME in their Navy.

* * * *

I'd like to point out that I am a pumpkin-shaped man of 40—sort of the slow-to-catch-on type and inclined toward puffing while engaging in a bus chase or a fast game of acey-deucy.

Now—sez you—what would a high class navy such as the United States Navy do with a tub of ganzerschmaltz like that?

"What kind of a sailor will be make on a night like this?"

I'm glad you asked that question. The very fact that the Navy can put me to some use shows that there's a vital, vital, VITAL need for men.

* * * *

There are more highly specialized jobs in the Navy than you could shake an oar at. . . . Jobs for men of all ages up to 50½. I wish you men would give the matter some thought—I mean about what you could be doing actively, in the Navy, to win a war. (In the event that you are between 18 and 38, don't worry too much. Nature will take its course.) But us other people have a real opportunity right now.

* * * *

The Navy performs a lot of important functions besides bounding over the ocean blue and pointing large sized guns at Mr. Tojo.

I am personally qualified to hold down a job as expert ballast. Your part in winning the war will depend on your skill and training. You owe it to these United States to step into a Navy Recruiting Station and say: "What can I do in the Navy to help get this war won?" . . . Maybe the answer in your case is NO. But there are a lot of jobs for men and women in the Navy. Why not find out if you can qualify? . . . Maybe you're a plumber. There are pipes to wipe in the Navy—and they're a lot more important to you and your future than Mrs. Throckmorton's dripping faucet.

* * * *

You'd feel a lot better about things, now and tomorrow, if your particular kind of specialized workmanship were being applied directly to where it will be helping to win, faster.

If you're bashful about asking for information at a Navy Recruiting Station, write for free booklets titled "What King of a Job Can I Get in the Navy" and "The Story of You in Navy Blue" (about WAVES) . . . . We can't guarantee a plain wrapper, but write anyway—to:

Every family in Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga, and Etiwanda is included in the Upland Merchants' Dividend Day. A directory has been especially compiled by The Upland News. This directory includes every house address in these communities—Upland, the outlying district, and the three communities east of Upland.

A page number and line number are selected in a drawing to determine where the "Dividend Day Man" will call with the award. Thus, an address is selected from the directory. If the family receiving the call qualifies by having sales slips, the award is presented. The call is made at 6 p. m. every Monday. The sales slips must be dated Saturday.

The dividend sales do not have to be for cash, a "charged" sales slip being acceptable. In all fairness, however, a sales slip for payment on account cannot be eligible for use on dividend day.

Talk on Russia and Election Of Officers Feature Meeting

Eight years' residence in Russia, during which time she learned the language and lived among the Russian people, has given Jeanette Reisbord a better understanding and appreciation of the problems and the many changes which occurred during the crucial period when the Russian people were preparing for the war which they knew was coming.

Mrs. Reisbord spoke before the members of the Upland Woman's club at their meeting Tuesday afternoon, telling of accompanying her husband, an architect, to Russia in January, 1932. He was under contract to the Russian government for the building of industrial plants. They were practical and realistic in their planning, and the military personnel had the final word as to location and specifications to avoid a readjustment period in turning from peacetime to wartime production.

Concerning conditions affecting family groups, Mrs. Reisbord explained that immediately following the revolution, divorce laws were extremely lax, but in 1936 new marriage and divorce laws were passed which made divorce very expensive. As part of their education, young people are now given courses in hygiene and guidance so that at the present time Russia has the highest marriage and birth rate and the lowest divorce rate. The government provides free education and medical care for all children, according to the speaker.

She stressed particularly the courage of the women of Russia in meeting the war crisis. As there are no 4F classifications among the men, the women are running the country, doing every type of work, and doing it well, she said.

Mrs. Reisbord included in her talk many interesting and amusing incidents which occurred in the period of her getting acquainted with the Russian people.

Mrs. L. E. Moser, president, presided over the meeting, and Mrs. J. Emery Sargent, program chairman, presented the speaker.

Feature of the business session was the election of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Marion Maxwell was unanimously chosen as president to succeed Mrs. Moser. Other officers elected are Mrs. Nellis C. McNeil, first vice-president; Mrs. J. Emery Sargent, second vice-president; Mrs. W. R. Farmer, third vice-president; Mrs. J. F. Sawyer, fourth vice-president; Mrs. Ray R. Sherwood, recording secretary; Mrs. Lowell S. Donnell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. J. Burlingame, treasurer; Mrs. Neal Van Dorin, parliamentarian; Mrs. W. A. Getty, auditor. Directors are Mrs. Minnie D. Goodrich, Mrs. Harold K. Hemingway, Mrs. L. E. Moser, Mrs. Jack Dorrity, Mrs. Carl Nicholson and Mrs. Ray C. Norton.

Mrs. John Scott and Mrs. J. Harvey Siegrist, co-chairmen for the month of April, were hostesses for the tea which concluded the afternoon. An arrangement of yellow rosebuds and lilacs centered the tea table, with yellow candles at either side. Mrs. Moser and Mrs. Maxwell poured.

THREE CONTENDERS IN GOLF TOURNEY PLAY ON SUNDAY

Finals in the highly important President's Cup tournament at the Red Hill Country club will be played Sunday, beginning early in the afternoon.

For the first time in local golfing history the finals will be a three-man affair. Dr. Roger Brissman was placed in an extra bracket at the outset and he finished some time ago.

Harlan Wassman and Harold Mount are undefeated in the other brackets and the three men will vie against each other to determine who is entitled to the trophy being offered by President A. J. Neilson.

COUNTY TAX 2.29 PERCENT UNPAID

San Bernardino county's total tax delinquency is $138,897.14, according to County Tax Collector Sherman G. Ratchelor. This means that only 2.29 per cent of the $6,038,718.63 tax charge for the fiscal year remains unpaid, while the record delinquency last year was 3.11 per cent.

Tax payments this year were not only greater, Mr. Batchelor stated, but more property owners paid all their taxes in the first payment than ever before.

County Employes' Retirement Plan On May 16 Ballot

A proposed retirement plan for employes of the county will be on the May 16 ballot for consideration of voters.

Under present laws, county employes are not entitled to participate in social security or any employment insurance and the ballot measure, if approved, will enable the public employes to set up their own retirement and savings plan. The proposal allows each employe to contribute a percentage of his or her salary and this contribution is to be matched by the county. An interest-earning fund will thus be created and the older employes will be retired.

Come, Next Monday, May the First---

The Mac's will have been on the job here in Upland for just 34 years. That is, if we are lucky enough to make it.

Understand, we're not bragging, just one of those things.

Came in via the Salt Lake R. R. to Ontario from Riverside. Mrs. Mac, Myself and a very handsome white pooch —a parting gift from doting friends.

Came up on the street car —hanging my second-hand bicycle on the front end as was the custom in them days.

Borrowed 1,800 on my unashamed note to buy Carl Carlson's 1-5th interest in a Drug store down in next block south. As I see it now I don't think the dump was worth a total of four grand, at least they only carried two thousand fire insurance and when the rains came—and they came — the flood waters from the slightly higher back yard—flowed gently but persistently into our back door — no doubt seeking a lower level—and finding same. However, the floor was slightly tilted toward the front and what didn't drip thru the cracks in the floor could be neatly swept out the front gate.

Ours was not what'd be called an imposing edifice—altho at that time we paid the highest business rent in town — 40 pesos American money. The total width was about 18 feet, and when you took off the space for a set of wall fixtures on each side and two rows of show cases (conventional arrangement) you couldn't drive a Mack truck down that center aisle without inconveniencing the customers.

Back end was old-fashioned tall Prescription case, and the back room—brothers—that was a gem.

Here was a peculiar space dedicated and devoted to receiving of shipments of sorts —to the discussion of how to improve the present system of public instruction—the rebuilding of the Panama Canal—to general uplift and the dissection of various agenda—plus a conviviality and close acquaintance not achieved by modern dimly lighted gilded halls.

If it hadn't been for this casual masterpiece of social service, Scions of the better families and a goodly section of the (Hoi Poi) would have languished and withered from the extremities of the climate, and perhaps untimely passed on without a ready antidote for Bubonic plague, Orange poisoning, Lemon rash or the insidious attack of some lurking serpent—with which the vicinity abounded—in them days.

Our chief helper during those stirring pioneer days —and nights — up to midnight sometimes — was one Clifford Lamb — which my yen for alliteration converted to Kliff the Kodak Kid. He was a red-headed young feller—slim as a lath—who hung his peg-top trousers on his hip bones—much to my dismay and admiration. Widest part of his anatomy—seemed to me—was his spectacles. Would you believe it —they tells me as knows—he is a nice rolly poly fat person, bald—shame on him —who is a civil service executive—or was—back in Dayton, Ohio.

My, My—when I think of the various pulsations of life that wriggled thru the social strata of the village in them days. Believe I could peck off a book that would astonish the survivors as well as the refugees, or perhaps an anthology—not unlike Spoon River.

Settle back, me hearties! I aint going to spill nuthin. If I opened the bag there would be high crime, misdemeanor, assault, battery, and free style mayhem — besides the untoward use of black market gas coupons as the villagers scrambled for the tall uncut. Which is a blessing I wish youall.

PRICE TELLS OF POST-WAR FUND

Considerable progress has been made by the Gov. Warren administration and the legislature in meeting post-war employment needs, according to R. Fred Price, candidate for re-election to the state legislature.

The legislature has diverted ½ cent of the sales tax and 10 per cent of the corporation tax to a post-war unemployment fund, Mr. Price said.

"It is estimated that this will amount to approximately 70 million dollars in two years," Mr. Price said. "This alone will not be sufficient to meet any major part of the unemployment needs for men returning from the service or being transferred from wartime to peacetime employment."

Mr. Price said the postwar period will "require the united effort of everyone to increase production and to provide greater payrolls. Greater industry presents the only hope we have of meeting the cost of the war, a continuance of private initiative and retaining a sound monetary system."

Church Women Hold Annual Meeting in Ontario Church

"Children and Youth—Leaders of Tomorrow' will be the theme of the fourth annual meeting of the Chaffey District Council of Church Women to be held Monday in the First Methodist church of Ontario.

Women of the hostess church are serving luncheon at 12:30 o'clock.

Mrs. R. W. Hollinger, president of the Southern California Council of Church Women, will be the afternoon speaker, and she will address the group on the theme topic.
